

Chemung Valley Audubon Society

Since 1950 CVAS has as its goal: furthering the study, enjoyment, awareness, and protection of . . .

- birds
- other wildlife
- and their habitats

Birds have always been a special interest of the organization's members, but we enjoy all things wild, from buttercups to butterflies to bears.

CVAS is a National Audubon Chapter. Members are from the 148__ and 149__ zip code areas. This includes parts of Allegany, Livingston, Steuben, Yates, Schuyler, Chemung, Seneca, Tioga, and Tompkins Counties.

MEETINGS

WHEN: Third Thursday
Sept - Dec, Feb - Jun

WHAT: 7:00 pm Bird Identification
7:30 pm Meeting w/ Speaker

WHERE: APPLERIDGE SENIOR LIVING
168 Miller Street
Horseheads, NY 14845

CONTACT: browncreeper9@gmail.com ~or~
Bill Ostrander at: (607) 732-3370
for mailings of meetings,
field trips, and events.

Activities

The Chemung Valley Audubon Society is active in education, research, and conservation. Activities include:

EDUCATION

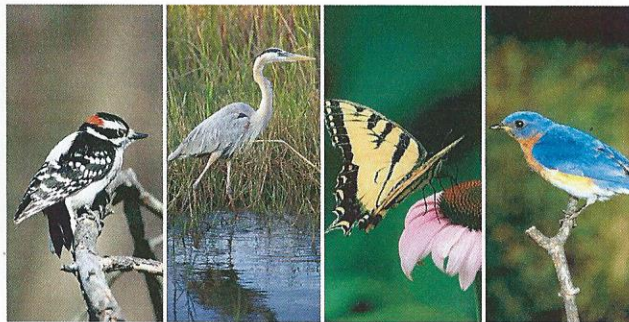

- Guided field trips for the public
- Wildlife programs
- Bird identification workshops
- Community programs
- Nature Strollers for families with young children

RESEARCH

- Elmira and Corning Christmas Bird Counts
- Great Backyard Bird Count
- New York State January Waterfowl Count
- New York State Breeding Bird Atlas

CONSERVATION

- Two wildlife sanctuaries
- Important Bird Area identification

Member Benefits

Monthly mailings of club-sponsored activities

Voting privileges

Opportunity to serve as Board member

Friendship with others who value our wildlife and its habitats

Projects

- Mark Twain State Park Birding Trail
- Hot Spot checklists
- Sperr Memorial Park observation deck

Affiliations

- National Audubon Society
- Audubon Council of New York State
- Audubon New York
- New York State Ornithological Association
- Carantouan Greenway